CRP Industries Announces New CRP Reman Website

- Offering turnkey remanufacturing solutions for OES and Tier 1 suppliers for their repair and maintenance components.

Cranbury, NJ... CRP Reman, a division of CRP Industries Inc., has launched its new website at crpreman.com. The site is designed to deliver an up-to-date overview of CRP's remanufacturing product and service offering for CRP's Reman clients. The mobile-friendly site provides a variety of resources on CRP Reman's offerings, including What We Do, Who We Serve, and Product Lines.

Product and Service Information Hub

As more vehicle manufacturers embrace increasingly aggressive sustainability and efficiency targets, remanufacturing becomes an essential part of their operations. CRP Industries is an experienced remanufacturing partner with the expertise and bandwidth to be a turnkey solution.

The new CRP Reman website hosts a library of valuable assets for Automotive and Heavy Duty OEMs, Tier 1s, and Aftermarket, as well as Agriculture, Construction, and Off-Road OEMs. The site offers comprehensive information on what we do, from complete remanufactured products, electronics, and mechanical component repair/remanufacture to advanced engineering and remanufacture viability analysis.

In addition to the wealth of product and service information, the new CRP Reman site provides dates and details for upcoming trade shows and industry events we will be participating in, as well as career opportunities within the organization.
